Stone Age Weapons

Well done to Bonnie and Charlie for creating stone age weapons at home with their dad. I think these look very realistic!

School Beat

We were pleased to welcome back PC Davis this week who delivered an online safety workshop to our Year 5 and 6 children.

Rise to the Challenge Award

Acorn Class: Arthur for working hard to listen carefully and follow instructions.

Sapling Class: Jasper for rising to the challenge with his spellings this week and achieving a good score on his spelling test.

Oak Class: Jake for Rising to the Challenge in Science and using the key vocabulary when explaining his scientific evaluation.

Everyone Reading in Class (ERIC)

Since returning to school in March, Acorn class have been taking part in ERIC time every day. This is an opportunity for everyone to stop at the same time, pick up a book and read. Here are some photos of the children enjoying their ERIC time on Wednesday.

The Friends of Rodmarton School needs YOU!

As parents, we all automatically become members of The Friends when our children start at Rodmarton School.

But we now really need some parents to become members of the Friends' committee from September.

The existing committee - Bryher, Penny and Lisa - have been on the committee for the last three years and, while they have all found it really enjoyable and rewarding to be so involved with the school, it's now time for them to concentrate on other things and they are all going to stand down at The Friends AGM in September.

It can take as much, or as little, time as you are able to give but if no parents are willing to join the committee then The Friends will have to be mothballed which, in turn, will mean that all the lovely things that The Friends funds for all our children will stop.

These include:

- Annual whole school trip to the pantomime
- Class school trips
- New computers
- Library books
- Living Eggs and other similar class initiatives
- Basics like school window cleaning and cleaning the playground.

All the social events, for both children and parents, that The Friends organises would also no longer happen.

One parent has already said she would be happy to join the committee, possibly as Chair, but we need at least another two committee members - a treasurer and a secretary.

Please, PLEASE, help us keep The Friends of Rodmarton School alive.

To chat about what being on The Friends committee involves, please just get in touch with any of us.
